RETURN SERVICE REQUESTED

Welcome Guests!

Information For Our Guests

- ◇ We would like to get to know you better. As our guest we ask that you complete the attendance registration form and leave it at the end of the pew. For prayer requests or information on other activities please note it on this form.
- ◇ To our guests with small children. We invite you to utilize our nursery and preschool classes for children age four and under. If you choose to keep your little one with you in worship and need to exit, we also have sky-boxes or "crying rooms" available where you can watch and listen to the service.

A Jesus-centered community of faith who worship, grow, serve, and evangelize in the low country, the whole country and the world.

Touching Hearts & Transforming Lives

Please help keep our worship center beautiful & clean and take your papers and trash with you when you leave.
.... Thanks so much.

The good Lord has blessed me with another year on this earth. Last Friday, February 10th, I turned 58 years old. 58! How did I get this old this fast? When I was a teenager I heard adults say that time moved faster the older you got. I didn't understand it then but I'm living it now. Somehow that 18 year old who graduated from Douglas, Georgia's Coffee High School in 1972 has been married for over 36 years, has two children, and seven grandchildren. When did all that happen? After all, I still think of myself inside as a man of 30 years old!

It's interesting how we mark the passing of time. Sometimes it is by our birthdays or it may be the cities in which we have lived. Some mark time by the cars they have owned or the jobs they have had. Some by the birth of children and others by sports events like the Super Bowl. We remember events and people in our lives easier when we think back and say, "Oh, yeah, I remember when that happened. It was when I lived in Florida." or "It was the year the Mets last one the World Series."

How many of us mark time by the spiritual events that occur in our lives? Events like the year you were saved, the date of your baptism, the churches of which you have been a part, the opportunities you have had to serve the Lord, mission trips, or the times you have heard the Lord speak to you. Realistically, as born again believers, we should mark the passing of time from the time we were saved. (From this point of view, I'm only 48 years old in Christ.)

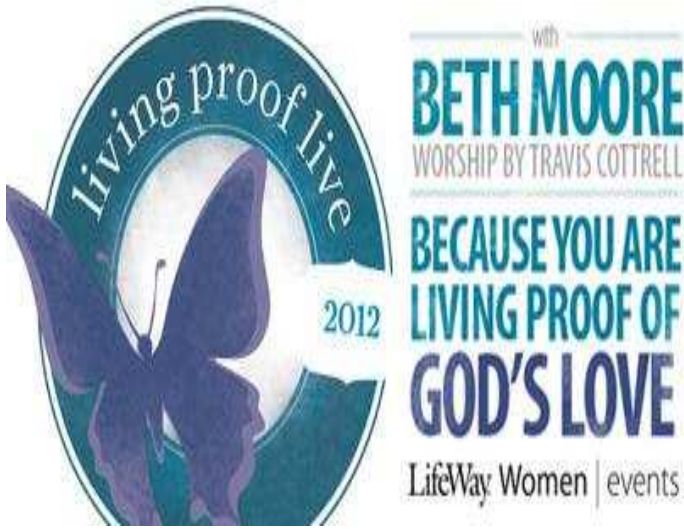

One day physical life as we know it will cease and, as the old hymn says, *Time shall be no more. Birthdays will be meaningless. The events we once thought were important won't be as important. We will have the opportunity to focus exclusively on our Lord Jesus Christ, praising Him and serving Him for all eternity. The aches and pains of an earlier time will be gone. Joy and happiness will be continuous.

Hopefully aging gracefully,

Joe

The church office

Remember to call the church office when...

- a member of your family is admitted to the hospital
- there is a death in your family
- your class or group would like to use one of the buildings/facilities. Remember to get your key in advance of the event.
- your address changes your home or work phone number changes
- a new baby arrives in your family
- a member of your family leaves for college
- your name changes
- you have a question
- you feel one of the staff members, or another church member can assist you
- and last but not least, please remember to put your name on any written communications.

Thank you!

We need your help!

Once she got the hang of it, Miss Simpson really enjoyed working in the church nursery.
